

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS
TAKE PART IN DRAMA"Seekers After Knowledge"
Present Entertainment
Friday Night.

An evening entertainment was given by the S. A. K. society of Chattanooga High school Friday, the organization being composed of the pupils of Mrs. Lucy Holzclaw McDonald's English classes. A play, "The Night Before the Wedding," written by Mrs. H. O. Milton, was produced.

Following the drama, a musical program was given by the high school orchestra, directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Colgrove. The opening number was "The Star-Spangled Banner," sung by the audience.

The entertainment was planned for the benefit of the piano fund, and $32 was realized.

The stage was tastefully set for the play, the interior of a bachelor's sitting room being represented.

Mrs. Lucy Holzclaw McDonald directed the dramatic program. The leading role, "Harold," was sustained by Robert Hedges. As a reminiscent prospective bridegroom, he is seen deeply engrossed in looking over a pile of letters and photographs, discarding and treasuring others. He comes to the conclusion that in marrying Ethel he is making a mistake; that he has been inveigled by a matchmaking mamma, and, upon the entrance of his chum, "Tom Snyder" (James McCall), confides his misgivings.

In the midst of his indecision the mother of "Ethel" (Mary Wilson) arrives with the startling news that her daughter has disappeared. She believes she has eloped with a former admirer, "Ethel" (Frances Blevins), appearing, however, informs the bridegroom that although she has not eloped, she fears she has been playing the hypocrite—that possibly she loves "William" better.

This sets the bridegroom-elect to thinking, lends a new coloring to the situation and he begins an ardent wooing of his bride-elect, so nearly lost.

All goes "merry as a marriage bell" shortly thereafter, with eight bridesmaids instead of six, and the party hastens to the rehearsal at the church to the tune of the wedding march, played with one finger by "Sambo" (Morris Cunningham).

The acting was well done and the costumes quite attractive.

A number of other parts of the clever little society drama were sustained by several members of the organization.

Following the program, dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

SMALL AMOUNT REALIZED FROM SOUTHWICK RECITALS

A business meeting of the Chattanooga Expression club was held Friday to finish up the returns of the Southwick recital. Mrs. S. O. Bankson, the president, presided. All of the reports were not in but it was estimated that $10 or $12 would be the profit for the Red Cross benefit after all expenses were paid. The next regular meeting will be held the second Friday in February with Mrs. George Scholze on the Wauhatchie pike.

NEGLIGEE FOR SPRING TROUSSEAU

(By Betty Brown.)

Here is a rose pink garment to delight the heart of any bride, sweeten the disposition of the grouchy breakfasting husband and utterly charm any feminine person of any age.

The particular attraction of this negligee is its unusual simplicity, delicacy and modesty. The foundation is a simple slip of flesh-colored satin, and the loose overskirt is of chiffon of the same shade.

There are two adorable shirred pouch pockets, a large square collar and fat silk buttons of large size afford the only ornamentation.

This is an extremely common-sense negligee, for there is no delicate lace to tear, no fluttering ribbons to soil quickly, and the rich materials lend themselves well to cleaning.

to be present and any one interested in prohibition is cordially invited.

BRIEF RESUME OF WORK OF GLEN MARTIN CIRCLE

Organization Founded by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Martin in Memory of Their Son.

The last meeting of the Glen Martin circle was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Martin Monday afternoon. Beautiful flowers, warmth, music and good fellowship contrasted with the ice and rain without. It was an occasion of deep meaning for the women present for they passed from their beloved circle training into the larger life of the Glen Martin Missionary society.

Mrs. H. D. Wallin, president, gave the Scripture reading, followed by circle of prayers. Song, "Somebody," Mrs. C. T. Tomlinson gave the secretary's report. Mrs. C. M. Mix gave the treasurer's report; Mrs. F. B. Martin gave a short talk to the circle, reviewing their years of growth and encouraging them to press on in their loving service. Rev. Hill gave the charge to the new society, and Mrs. E. R. Jennings sang "Make Me a Channel of Blessings."

Mrs. Jennings then called the roll of the ex-presidents, and those present responded with "What the Glen Martin Circle Has Meant to Me." One beautiful message was from one who was detained by business. It is given in full.

The treasurer's report for the nine years of the organization was then read. It is given below.

Rev. Hill gave the closing prayer, and a social hour with tea and cakes was enjoyed.

Medaness George Campbell, H. C. Davis, Tucker and Claude E. Hill were invited guests.

From an ex-president:

"Will you please let these flowers serve as my proxy and tell what the circle has meant to me? Just as the flowers desire to return to the skilled hand of the florist a more perfect beauty and a richer fragrance as an expression of their appreciation of his tender care of them, so the circle has kindled in me a desire to return to the hand of my Master a more loving and acceptable service, a deeper consecration of my life to Him."

The Glen Martin circle was organized in the year 1909 with a membership of ten. Mrs. F. B. Martin was chosen as superintendent, or, as we call her, "mother" in love.

In memory of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Martin gave through the circle an offering of $200, which endowed a room, "the Glen Martin room," in our mountain school at Livingston, Tenn.

Miss Annie Laurie Spears was elected president and the circle raised during the year $282.57.

The year ending Oct. 1, 1911 Mrs. Elder was elected president. The total amount raised was $1319. Mrs. Elder has since removed to a distant state and is president of the auxiliary at that point.

The year ending Oct. 1, 1912, Mrs. J. P. Houston was president. During this year the circle extended its sphere of work to include local charity work. The amount raised for national and state work $218 and for local charity $42.90, and repairs on the church building $85, making a total of $290.90.

The year ending Oct. 1, 1914, Mrs. J. A. Wilson was president. The circle raised for national and state work $284.42 and for local charity $84.25. They purchased material and made $240.70 worth of seven sleeping garments for the little folks at the Orphans' home, valued at $15. Total, $347.67. The circle received the bronze medal of the state of Tennessee for the largest increase in membership in the state.

The year ending Oct. 1, 1915, Mrs. H. D. Wallin was president. The circle raised for national and state work $287 and for local charity $107.46, making a total of $394.46. During this year the circle extended its sphere of work to include the Men's society, the men of the church were organized into a missionary society, called the Inner circle. The name of the society has been changed to the Men's society, and is doing a splendid work.

The year ending Oct. 1, 1916, Mrs. C. E. Kirkpatrick was president. The circle raised for national and state work $211.80 and for local charity $240.80, making a total of $452.60. The circle was again awarded the bronze medal of the state of Tennessee. During this year the Triangle club was organized and also the Little Light Bearers, comprising every link in the chain of C. W. B. M. work.

The year ending Oct. 1, 1917, Mrs. Joe Moore served as president three months and Mrs. Paul Campbell the remaining nine. The circle raised for national and state work $293.05 and for local charity $104.30, making a total of $397.35.

Total amount raised since organization, $2,539.47.

Present membership, 77.

Treasurer's Remarks.

These are but figures. Who can estimate the value of the influence that has gone out from this circle in ever-widening circles? Who can place a value upon the deepening of the spiritual life, the broadening of the vision, the capacity for leadership that has been developed in the young women of the circle? Who can estimate the joy that has come through a deeper realization of the beauty and dignity of service for the Master? Who can tell what it has meant to the "stranger within our gates" to find a friendly, happy band of consecrated young Christian women, ready to welcome these strangers into the fellowship and social life of the church?

The value of these things will only be known when the clouds shall be rolled back as a scroll and the books of the judgment day unfold.
